INTRODUCTION.

The collector of coins, whatever his specialty may be, cannot fail to find something in this Catalogue to his taste. The genuine numismatist is interested in every medal or piece of money, of whatever nation or age it may be, remarkable for rarity, extraordinary merit as a work of art, uncommon preservation, or historical importance.

The great variety in the Taylor cabinet, while it made it interesting as a collection, may be considered a fortunate characteristic—now that it is to be sold.

Had the writer in view only the interests of those who sell these coins, he might endeavor to stimulate competition for particular lots by naming them here, and pointing out the most valuable; but the study of coins has in this community now advanced somewhat beyond the rudiments of numismatic science, and this catalogue will fall into hands, to say the least, as well qualified as himself to make comparisons and draw conclusions; and having given, so far as he was capable, a plain and truthful account of what was confided to his care, he will consider his task completed, after having made a few observations as general as the nature of the subject will permit.

There will always be some difference of opinion concerning the proper description of a coin. In other communities the points discussed have been, and it is to be hoped will continue to be, nearly related to the origin, meaning, and importance of the coin itself; among ourselves, criticism has occupied itself with the extent of the significance of the word fine, and more particularly with the vast difference between the meaning of that term when standing alone (like a shield of arms without supporters), or when preceded by the adverb very.

Whether the writer is or is not so loyal to the decrees of those who preside in the temples which men in these degenerate days have dedicated to the goddess Moneta as to be of the opinion of Tacitus, "That it is more pious and respectful to believe than to inquire into the works of the gods," he is, at least, too sensible of what is due to popular prejudice to call a coin fine simply because it has high antiquity, admirable art, and important meaning to recommend it, unless it has also that other quality which we expect in the proof-sets of the current year of grace—a brilliant surface, unsoiled by the contact of human hands, or the baser contact of other metals.

Should any one think these remarks inspired by personal or professional promptings, the answer is made—Most decidedly they are not.

There is but one man to whom a personal disclaimer is due, and to that man the coin cabinets of America owe more than to any other. He set up his standard on the mountain-tops—perfection was his touch-stone. When that was impossible, the best attainable was the rule and limitation. Those who come after him will or they will sink out of sight.

"Follow in the furrows that he tilled,"

To return from what has narrowly escaped being a digression: The ancient coins with which the Catalogue begins are, with a single exception, more considerable in numbers and quality than have appeared in any sale in New York during the last ten years. Among the medals are some that are rare, as well as many that are fine, and the Papal series is unusually full, and contains several of much interest.

In Part II. will be found some of the most valuable coins that are known to our national history, both before and after the establishment of the Mint.

No. 548 is a medal concerning which the writer hopes to receive some information before the sale takes place, and invites any one to kindly communicate their views on this or any other subject connected with the Catalogue.

W. H. STROBRIDGE.

345 Head, with a ram's horn; Hebrew ins. on collar and rev. Same size.

[Medals similar to the above are in the Ashmole library at Oxford, England, and have occasioned prolonged and curious conjectures.

It is argued that, as the head of Christ on the first two are without the nimbus which is found on all such heads after the 7th century, they were made previous to that date. One exactly like 343 was found in 1812 in Cork, on the site of an ancient monastery, contemporaneous with the introduction of Christianity into Ireland.]

AMERICAN MEDALS.

Miscellaneous.

528 Vernon Series; THE HON. EDWARD VERNON, ESQ. (this in ex.) HATH ONCE MORE REVIV'D THE BRITISH GLORY; the Admiral shown at three-quarter length, full face, right hand on hip, holding baton in left; behind him to r., a ship and FORT CHAGRE; to l., tree; rev. BY THE TAKING OF PORTO BELLO WITH SIX SHIPS ONLY, Nov. the 22d, 1739; a town and harbor in the form of a semi-circle; two large forts guarding the entrance, one in harbor; six ships lying in a double row before it. Very fine; rare variety; brass. Size 24

529 —— Same; the Admiral at full length, sword in hand; to r., ship; to l., fort; under the fort, HAVANA; the legend is ED. VERNON, ESQ., VICE-ADMIRAL OF THE BLUE; the reverse tells the same story as before in a different way. Extremely fine; brass. Size 23

530 —— Same; one side of this is the British coat-of-arms, the other is quite similar to the rev. of 528. Very fine, also rare. Size 24

531 —— Same; obv. much like 529, without the fort and ship, however, and with the addition of an anchor; the legend is, THE BRITISH GLORY, etc.; rev. AD. VERNON AND GEN'L OGLE TOOK CARTHAGENA BY SEA AND LAND; and, in ex., Ap'l 1, 1741; view of the town and harbor, with nine ships. Same size and equally fine.

532 VERNON SERIES; THE SPANISH PRIDE PULLED DOWN, etc.; Don Blass kneeling before Admiral Vernon; two varieties, the Don on one knee and on both knees, with marked differences in the reverses. Both fine; size 24. 2 p

533 —— Same; ADMIRAL VERNON AND COMMODORE BROWN; the two officers at three-quarters length face to face; no ins., but a handsome ornament in the exergue; rev. the taking of Porto Bello—with another, not described. Equally fine; same size. 2 p

534 —— Same; ADM'L VERNON AND SR. CHALONER OGLE (and, in ex.,) WE LOOK FOR DON BLASS; rev. Carthagena, etc.; with another, which I think very rare. Same size. 2 p

535 —— Same; very pretty medals. Size 17. 2 p

[A full description would have shown that some of these medals differ from any described from Mr. Appleton.]

536 GULIELMUS PITT; bust in wig; rev. "The man who having saved the parent," etc. In red copper; an original impression; very fine and rare in this metal. Size 26

537 —— Duplicate in brass. Very poor.

538 CAROLINA medal; Pallas standing with spear and palm; arms, armor, and several instruments used in the liberal arts lying to r. and l.; BOTH HANDS FILLED FOR BRITAIN; and in ex., GEORGE REIGNING; rev. a Queen watering a plantation of young palm trees; GROWING ARTS ADORN EMPIRE; and in ex., CAROLINE PROTECTING, 1736. Ex. fine; silver. Size 25

539 —— Duplicate. Equally fine.

540 JONAN DERK; a figure sitting on a monument, holding a cross and crown in one hand, and in the other a radiated baton; beside the monument a peasant leaning on a spade; a flat-country prospect; SVVM CVIQVE; rev. ins. in Latin; nine lines ending, ZWOLLA, 1 NOV., MDCCLXXXII.; by I. G. Holtzhey. Silver. Size 21

[I suppose this to be one of Holtzhey's series of Dutch-American medals relating to the close of our revolutionary war; it is the first of the kind that has come in my way.]

1.00 541 Franklin medals, 1706 and 1784; bust; rev. an angel standing above cloud, lightning descending. Fine proof; bronze. Size 29

75 541*a* —— Duplicate.

1.25 541*b* —— Same obv.; rev. ERIPUIT, etc., within wreath of oak. Fine proof, all by Dupré, and same size.

50 542 Washington medal by Westwood. An impression in tin; original and very rare. Size 26

[This is the only medal from Westwood's dies that I have seen in this metal. It is sharp and entirely uncirculated, but the metal appears to be disintegrating, and crumbles easily.]

90 543 —— Same; Bust; GEN'L GEORGE WASHINGTON; rev. within wreath, BORN FEB. 22, 1732; DIED DEC'R 14, 1799. Tin; uncirculated, but tarnished. Size 29

90 544 —— Duplicate. Equally fine.

25 545 —— Two others; badly tarnished. 2 p

4.25 546 —— Same; funeral medal; rev. urn. The well-known medal, so-called; original; silver. Very fine and rare. Size 18

75 547 —— Same; bust, bare; rev. bust of Lincoln, bare. Silver. Size 12

15.50 548 Medal; subject and history unknown; so far as I know, unique; two men standing with their left hands joined; one supports something on his shoulder by his right, while the other makes a gesture with his; WHERE LIBERTY DWELLS, THERE IS MY COUNTRY; in ex., OCT., the rest is obliterated; the rev. is plain, and appears to have had no impression; thick, very old planchet in lead or tin; much battered. Size 29 or 30

5.00 548* Edwin Forrest; young head, bare; HISTRIONI OPTIMO EDDINO FORREST VIRO PRÆSTANTI MDCCCXXXIV.; under bust, C. C. W. Sr.; rev. Melpomĕne seated; GREAT IN MOUTHS OF WISEST CENSURE; in ex., C. INGHAM, DEL. Splendid proof in silver (see illustration). Size 27

[I did not select this medal for the engraver until I had submitted it to the examination of my friend Mr. Edward Cogan, whose hearty commendation of the piece, in his judgment, equally interesting in subject and remarkable for rarity, decided my choice.]

549 GILBERT STUART; by the American Art Union. Fine proof; bronze medal in case. Size 40

550 JOHN TRUMBULL; by same. Same size.

551 WASHINGTON ALLSTON; by same. Same size.

552 ZACHARY TAYLOR; by the State of Louisiana. A splendid proof impression of this well-known but rare "Pelican medal;" the only one in this condition that I have seen. Bronze. Size 48

553 BLACK OAK Agricultural Society, 1842; cotton tree and sheaf of wheat; rev. plough and ins.; an ugly hole punched through it. Thick silver medal; very rare. Size 24

554 WINYAH and All-Saints' Agricultural Society, 1857; plough; rev. sheaf of wheat; "Dr. J. R. Tucker, for Best Stallion," engraved on it. Silver medal; same size as last. Very fine and rare.

555 WORLD'S Fair, New York, 1853; view of the Crystal Palace; rev. globe. Proof in tin; rare. Size 47 his head; above CENT; edge lettered; circulated and abused before its value was known; still a fair cent, and one with which any collector would be satisfied unless his ambition led him to aspire to one of the 5 proofs of this rarest of American copper coins.

29.00 1056 SAME; bust to l. in military dress; date below; G. WASHINGTON, PRESIDENT; rev. eagle, around his head 15 stars; UNITED STATES OF AMERICA; edge plain; half-dollar size; impressions for silver from same dies are called half dollars; very fine; among the best ever offered, although not strictly uncirculated. Very rare.

1794 and 1795.

4.00 1057 WASHINGTON Grate cent; bust; rev. fire-place; London, 1795. Very fine.

75 1057* TALBOT ALLUM AND LEE; cents of each date, (1794–5); the last uncirculated and bright. Both fine. 2 p 1796.

31.00 1058 KENTUCKY; P. P. P. Myddelton's Token; "British Settlement in Kentucky;" illustrated by Liberty standing with outstretched hand before a woman and two children; anchor and other symbols lying on the ground; rev. Britannia seated; splendid proof, silver. Very rare.

1.63 1059 —— Same, "Unanimity is the strength of Society," "Our cause is just." Lettered edge, very fine.

2.00 1060 —— Same; edge plain. Equally fine, rare.

50 1060*PATTERN cent, without date, U. S. A.; rev. 13 bars. Extra fine.

UNITED STATES COINS, FROM THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE MINT TO 1875.

1793.

8.00 1061 CENT; rev. a chain of 15 links, UNITED STATES OF AMERI; after the word Liberty no dot; unusually fine for date and variety. Very rare.

1062 CENT; rev. chain; the legend UNITED STATES OF AMERICA; dot after Liberty; sharp, fine impression, but little worn, but dark. Rare.

1063 —— Same; rev. wreath; leaves of the trefoil broad, and standing fairly under the head; very sharp impression, and but little circulated, but with nicks on edge, and has been cleaned.

1064 —— Same; another variety of the "wreath" cent; letters and figures on obv. smaller than before, the trefoil inclined to r., leaves slender. Very fine.

1065 —— Same, with Liberty cap, lettered edge. A fine cent, cleaned, rare.

1066 HALF-CENT; usual, and only type, fine. Rare.

1067 —— Same; uncirculated; a beautiful impression, second to none ever offered at public or private sale. Very rare.

1794.

1068 CENT; only fair; dark.

1069 —— Same; very fine, broken die; also dark.

1070 HALF-CENT; fair.

1071 HALF-DIME; very fine, not uncirculated. Rare.

1072 DOLLAR; fine for this rare date.

1073 —— Same; the best impression from the dollar dies of this date, and on the best planchet that I have seen —a remark that I have often heard from others since the piece has been in my hands; there has been a name engraved on the obv. and burnished out, the effect being observable though not greatly hurtful; it is a beautiful dollar, and equalled by few. Rare.

1795.

1074 CENT; lettered edge, thick planchet; dark, but fine. Scarce.

1075 —— Same; plain edge; uncirculated, or very nearly so; impression and color all that can be desired. Rare.

1076 —— Same; very rare variety, very broad milling. Fair.

1077 —— Same; Jefferson head; the second best that has been offered at auction. Desirable and rare.

2.25 1078 HALF-CENT; lettered edge, thick planchet. Very fine

50 1079 —— Same; plain edge. Only fair.

32.50 1080 —— Same; lettered edge, thick planchet, bright and uncirculated; as fine in every respect as when it fell from the die; was to my knowledge sold two years ago for $35. Very rare.

2.63 1103 —— Same; seven and nine stars. Still finer and scarce.

1798.

1104 CENT; sharp and fine, but dark.

1105 DIME; 13 stars on obv. and 16 on rev. Very fine for date and variety, rare.

1106 DOLLAR; old or small eagle reverse, and one of the best that I have seen. Fine and rare.

1107 —— Same; large eagle reverse; new die. Very fine.

1108 DUPLICATE; equally fine.

1799.

1109 CENT; excellent impression and preservation; found nearly black and kept so; has not been cleaned, and is the better for it; a very desirable cent. Rare.

1123 CENT. Very fine, dark.

1124 —— Same; very fair; nearly uncirculated; has been cleaned.

1125 HALF-CENT; much better than usually found. Rare.

35.00 1126 HALF-DIME; has been considerably circulated in a bent form, and worn in ridges; the date is, however, perfect, as well as other parts of the piece on both sides. I am told that it was formerly in the Sandford Collection, and sold with his coins. Rare to excess.

1.25 1127 DIME; ordinary.

4.00 1128 HALF-DOLLAR; for date excellent. Rare.

2.00 1129 DOLLAR; fine for date.

1803.

1.00 1130 CENT, uncirculated, but with slight drawbacks; the color is not all that could be desired, and there are scratches on the face. Rare.

[As few collectors of coins will ever have an opportunity to see a set of the patterns out of which the "Trade Dollar" was selected (or rather out of which it grew, because it is different from any one of the six before me), I will mention here their characteristics and then catalogue them separately, reserving the right to sell them in this way or as a set. They all have on the principal side a representation of the Goddess of Liberty in some form, and on the reverse the usual motto and legend, with the addition of "420 grains, 900 fine," with the title—TRADE DOLLAR.]
